

In a world that doesn't shun at explicit sexuality, who's doors are open to civil liberties above moral, and who doesn't turn a cheek at violence and the negative influence most programs have on society. It's a breath of fresh Air to listen to a radio station who cares about the community and what's going on in it. I feel like a person with opportunity to change and need for existence after listening to the spiritually inspirational commentary and music on the Air 1 radio station. We're so blessed to have a radio station that's non-judgemental, non-aggressive, accepting and tasteful that the public can feel proud to listen to, and doesn't have to "give mom the eye" when something offensive comes on from other stations. I listen to Air 1 in my area and will help to fight in order to keep them available all over the world.
